

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CLEARVIEW BAPTIST WORSHIP CENTER
EQUIPPED WITH AURALEX'S CUSTOM PROPANELS

INDIANAPOLIS, IN, FEBRUARY 12, 2008 — Auralex Acoustics, Inc., the industry leader in innovative sound control solutions, recently outfitted ClearView Baptist Worship Center with its best-selling Custom ProPanels.

The ClearView Baptist Worship Center, located in Franklin, TN, is a multi-purpose building housing: worship services; worship band and choir practices and performances; social meetings and events; bible school studies; and a preschool. The facility has a wood gym floor and a dry wall finish on all walls, which created slap echoes and an excessive sound decay, specifically within midrange frequencies.

The install, facilitated through Bob Nickerson at Corner Music, included a total of [44] 4'x8'x2" Custom ProPanels, with 18 on the rear wall and six on the front wall. Due to the adjacent side walls, 10 panels were staggered on each wall. The custom panels were wrapped in Light Moss fabric to match the décor of the space and featured a beveled edge.

When needed, Auralex engineers and product specialists will help design Custom ProPanels for specific application and space requirements, creating a perfect fit and maximizing its effectiveness. Custom ProPanels allow virtually unlimited options regarding acoustic panel design. Custom ProPanels are available in any size up to 5'x10' with a thickness of ¾", 1", 2" or 4". Beyond standard rectangular panels, custom shapes, corners or edging can be created for a truly unique product. There are also hundreds of fabric options to perfectly match, highlight or stand out from any interior environment.

"Auralex's Custom ProPanels changed the entire room's dynamics," said Michael Smith, Associate Pastor/Worship. "We now have better sound clarity without dealing with any reverberant sound or ambient noise."
