Auralex® Displays QuadFusor™ Sound Diffusor

— Versatile and affordable, the Class A QuadFusor™ mates four of Auralex®'s MiniFusors in a 2-foot-by-2-foot array that's perfect for ceiling grid or wall mounting —

NAMM SHOW, ANAHEIM, CA, JANUARY 24, 2013 – Auralex® Acoustics, Inc. (booth 6798), the world's leading brand of acoustical treatments and currently celebrating its 35th anniversary, is displaying the QuadFusor™ Sound Diffusor. Made from the same Class A flame retardant molded thermoplastic as Auralex's acclaimed T'Fusor™, the QuadFusor combines four of the company's MiniFusors™ and arrays them in an attractive 2-foot-by-2-foot pattern. This Class A fire-rated acoustical diffusor is paintable to match any decor and is suitable for commercial spaces and can be dropped into a ceiling grid or mounted to a wall or ceiling.

Versatile and affordable, the QuadFusor offers a rare combination of great performance, Class A flame retardancy, stellar appearance and competitive pricing. The QuadFusor's surface-variable design includes a proprietary ledge and rear cavity that accommodate the insertion of a rigid substrate such as Auralex PlatFoam™ or acoustical fiberglass, thus improving the device's diffusion characteristics and adding significant low-frequency trapping. The QuadFusor can easily be installed in new or existing construction and is Auralex's latest addition to their complete line of acoustical treatment solutions, perfect for contractors and system integrators at any budgetary level.
